

Question 26 :A cube 1m x 1m x1m = 100cm x 100cm x 100cm = 1000000 cm³

Finch Links:I had never heard of many of these finches so here are links to prove I didn't make them up...(Wikipedia is also quite good with its finches...)

BULLFINCH <http://www.rspb.org.uk/wildlife/birdguide/name/b/bullfinch/>

CHAFFINCH <http://www.rspb.org.uk/wildlife/birdguide/name/c/chaffinch/index.aspx>

GREENFINCH <http://www.rspb.org.uk/wildlife/birdguide/name/g/greenfinch/index.aspx>

GOLDFINCH <http://www.rspb.org.uk/wildlife/birdguide/name/g/goldfinch/index.aspx>

MOUNTAIN FINCH (e.g. Tucuman Mountain Finch)

http://www.pbase.com/james_lowen/image/87359640

HOUSE FINCH http://www.allaboutbirds.org/guide/house_finch/id

SPECTACLED FINCH

http://orientalbirdimages.org/birdimages.php?action=birdspecies&Bird_ID=1971

DESERT FINCH <http://www.birdguides.com/species/species.asp?sp=161078>

CORSICAN FINCH <http://www.oiseaux.net/birds/photos/corsican.finch.html>

And here is the driving licence of a certain Gregory House...

Question 50 : first floor in the UK is one floor higher, what is the first floor in New York is called the ground floor in the UK (I asked this question wrong and had the cannonball in NYC when I asked it)