

21. Swimmer Keri-Anne Payne became the first British athlete to qualify for what?
22. What is the name of the last space shuttle to run a mission that will land on Thursday?
23. What does HMV stand for?
24. Which city was used as the location of Nelson Mandela house in Only Fools and Horses?
25. Who won this years British Open golf tournament?
26. What is the chemical symbol for Plutonium?
27. Bauxite is an ore of which metal?
28. Who played James Bond in Live and Let Die?
29. What famous battle took place on 21st October 1805?
30. What is the most likely total achieved when throwing two dice?

31. What letter of the alphabet is represented by three dots in morse code?
32. In tennis what three letter word refers to A let is a stroke that doesn't count and must be replayed?
33. What tv programme featured Eddie "Fitz" Fitzgerald as its main character?
34. What was the first name of the jazz singer Fitzgerald who was nicknamed the "first lady of song"?
35. What is the shortnered form of the first name of the daughter in the cartoon Family Guy?
36. What can refer to the row or rank of something and is also a particular Asian countries institute of Economic Research?
37. What word can be used to describe a driver in golf, named because of the traditional material used to make the head of the club?
38. What can be a legal term, a bag and the campaign for Science and Engineering?
39. Who is the MP for Kirkcaldy and Cowdenbeath?
40. What is the link between the answers from 31-39?

41. Who wrote Ivanhoe?
42. in Roman mythology who was the messenger of the gods?
43. Which worldwide service club was founded in 1905?
44. What was Ronald Reagans middle name?
45. What famous boat was formally called phyllus Cormack?
46. The moons a balloon is a biography of which british actor?
47. In quiche Lorraine, what ingredient makes it Lorraine style?
48. What number is tiga puluh tiga in Indonesian?
49. A regular dodecahedron has 12 faces, all regular pentagons how many corners (vertices) does it have?
50. There was once a man who never left his home. The only time anyone ever visited him was when his food and supplies were delivered, but they never came inside. Then, one storm winter night when an icy gale was blowing, he had a nervous breakdown. He went upstairs, turned off all the lights and went to bed. Next morning, he had caused the deaths of several hundred people. How?